Apparent energy efficiency	Potential energy savings form increased technical energy efficiency (PES)	Actual energy savings form increased technical energy efficiency (AES)
		Economy-wide rebound effect	Direct rebound effect	Substitution effects
				Income effects
			Indirect rebound effect	Output effects
				Substitution effects
				Income effects
				Compositional effects
				Competitiveness effects
				Embodied energy effects
			General equilibrium rebound effects
	Other factors (infra-utilization of equipment)			